Envelopes

THE CORPSE OF LION'S JAW
Text: (none)

Location: seat of Lion's Jaw

Stone Bust of a Scholar
Text: Wears a very dignified expression. Open with the Glasses, or else prize it open if you would win ties on scissors.

Location: Gang Treasury

Ledger
Tags: Pocketable
Text: The bandits' ledger, penned by "Rat's Tail." The bookkeeping is complex and difficult to understand. Open with the Glasses, or else do the math and open if you win ties on paper.

Location: Gang Treasury

Puzzle Box
Tags: Pocketable
Text: Open this envelope with the Glasses, or if you can think how to open a puzzle box with no solution.

Location: Gang Treasury

A Small Painted Portrait of a Woman
Tags: Treasure, Pocketable, Turtle
Text (envelope): Rolled out as a scroll, it's quite beautiful. Open with the Glasses, or if you can bring yourself to scrape Turtle's Shell away, destroying the painting by opening the envelope.

Location: Gang Treasury

Latched Case
Tags: Pocketable
Text: A compact storage case for medicines, candies, and other odds and ends, belonging to Ox's Back. Open this envelope with the Glasses, or pick the lock if you would win ties on scissors.

Location: Peddler's Stall

Locked Chest
Text (envelope): Open with the Glasses, or else open the envelope to smash it if you would win ties on rock.

Location: Peddler's Stall

Peddler's case
Tags: Pocketable
Text: A storage case for ingredients. Open this envelope with the Glasses, or pick the lock if you would win ties on scissors.

Location: Peddler's Stall

Coded Letter
Tags: Pocketable
Text (envelope): Open with the Glasses, or else decode it if you would win ties on paper.

Location: Kitchen

Hearth
Text: A stone fireplace set into the wall of the kitchen. A bottle seems to have fallen into the pile of still-glowing coals at the bottom, but reaching in to grab it seems like it will not be pleasant. Open with the Glasses, or else reach in and retrieve the bottle anyways if you win ties on rock.

Location: Kitchen

Cards

Lion's Sword
Tags: Pocketable, treasure
Text: Once you pry it from his fingers, you can feel the incredible balance of it. A fine piece of craft. If you throw rock in combat, you win ties.

Location: inside the Lion's corpse envelope

Description of Corpse
Text: His body smells of wine, and the very beginning of decay. His hand still clutches his gold-ornamented sword, a heavy cleaver of a weapon. His jacket is stained by rich red wine, and his face is stained by death. His clothing is opulent, his hair an unkempt mane tied into a rough queue. His eyes stare into the ground, a good view into the grave. There are no wounds on his body, but many scars. His throat is swollen and purple. Definitely poison.

Location: inside the Lion's corpse envelope

Lion's Cup
Tags: Pocketable
Text: A golden vessel still clutched in a massive hand; the poison is there, a faint bitterness if you know to smell for it.

Location: inside the Lion's corpse envelope

Ritual String
Tags: Pocketable
Text: A colored string used to decorate a sacrificial animal. In this case, it's been looped around his boot, where he likely didn't see it, and didn't notice it.

Location: inside the Lion's corpse envelope

Secret Scroll
Tags: Pocketable, Turtle
Text: A message of love from Monkey Fingers to Turtle's Shell, quite sentimental. The poetry is decent.

Location: Inside small portrait

Antidote Bottle
Tags: Pocketable
Text: A bottle of what you think is a poison's antidote. It is still somewhat warm to the touch.

Location: Inside "Hearth" envelope

Decoded Letter
Tags: Pocketable
Text: A letter in Snake's handwriting, addressed to a magistrate, asking for rooms to be prepared for Snake and one other important traveler.

Location: inside coded letter

Bitter residue
Text: A bitter residue is on the case. It smells like poison.

Location: inside Peddler's case

A small pile of gold coins
Tags: Pocketable

Location: inside locked chest in Peddler's stall

A Silver Locket
Tags: Pocketable, Turtle
Text: A locket with a lock of hair inside. Perhaps its owner wanted a piece of herself to be with you always.

Location: character sheet envelope for DM

A Handful of Rubies
Tags: Pocketable, Treasure
Text: However you opened the envelope, it was correct, and these are yours.

Location: inside the puzzle box

Accounts
Tags: Pocketable
Text: The contents of the ledger, made clear. The author of the accounts was very clever, and managed to make a number of purchases from “Ox’s Back” nonspecific and the numbers add up without them. Certain herbs and rare plants, it looks like, useful for medicine or for poison.

Location: Inside ‘Ledger’ envelope.

Crystal Eyes
Tags: Treasure, Pocketable
Extremely lifelike, carved from previous stones. Look at you reproachfully.

Location: Inside ‘Stone Bust’ envelope.

Low Table Feast Settings
Text: The tables are set for eight. There’s stew, bread, fried things, and roast things, variously finished. The food has gone cold.

Location: Table

High Table Feast Settings
Text: The high table is set for four, as well as Lion. The four plates are laden with stew, bread, fried things, roast things, and a bitter herb mix.

Location: Table

Lion’s Plate:
Text: A hearty portion of stew, bread, fried things, and roast things. His last meal is unfinished.

Location: Table

High Table Wine Goblets
Text: All four of the goblets at the top of the table have been all but drained, leaving only lees that smell strangely bitter. If you take a sip from these goblets, immediately tell the Leopard Cat Prince.

Location: Table

Low Table Wine Goblets
Text: The goblets up at the lower end of the table have various quantities of wine in them. A few have spilled. It's good wine.

Location: Table

Lion's Cape
Tags: Treasure, Pocketable
Text: A great fur cape, probably taken from some kingsman. It shows signs of many repairs from sword-cuts and axe-tears.
You can use this item once in order to fight again immediately after losing a fight. Once it is used, give this card to the Leopard Cat Prince.

Location: Adjacent to Lion's seat

Wine Ewer
Tags: Pocketable
Text: There's a bitter smell from the lees, and if you sip them, tell the Leopard Cat Prince immediately. It's still a little warm from the fire where it was mulled.

Location: Kitchen

Kitchen Knives
Tags: Pocketable
Text: If you throw scissors in combat, you win ties.
They're very, very sharp.

Location: Kitchen

Quail Eggs
Tags: Pocketable, Treasure
Text: An assortment of small, black-and-white speckled eggs in a basket.

Location: Kitchen

Razor-Edged Fan
Tags: Pocketable
Text: If you throw paper in combat, you win ties.
A sharp-edged fan, of beautiful cut paper with metal edges. Easily concealed, and finely made.

Location: Peddler's Stall

Perfume Bottle
Tags: Pocketable, Treasure, Turtle
Text: A rich, herbaceous scent, heady with citrus and the thick smell of green things. The bottle is small, the glass thick, but the scent cuts through the air with even a drop.

Location: Peddler's Stall

Rich Cloth
Tags: Pocketable, Treasure
Text: A section of intricate silk brocade cut roughly from a larger tapestry. A pattern of gold thread and bright colors remains, as well as half of the crest of a noble family, slashed through.

Location: Gang Treasury

Engraved Horn
Tags: Pocketable, Treasure
Text: The horn of some large animal, hollowed out and engraved with figures of howling wolves along its length.

Location: Gang Treasury